Spirit Song: The Introduction Of No-Eyes

Synopsis

The first volume in a series of books written by Mary Summer Rain about her experiences with an extraordinary Native American shaman called "No-Eyes," Spirit Song has become one of the best-selling and most important books in the literature and philosophy of what has been called the "new-age." Mary Summer Rain was the last student of the blind-from-birth Chippewa visionary, and spent many days in the remote cabin in the mountains with the woman who would become her beloved friend and teach her the many lessons of the spirit and of the Earth Mother. But it is the unique interaction between the two that provides the emotional power behind the profound teachings of the old woman. The wonderfully lyrical descriptions of the vivid seasonal beauty of Colorado serve as a backdrop for this unfolding narrative.

These two tapes are volumes 1 & 3 in a set that also includes Phoenix Rising and Phantoms Afoot. No Eyes, a blind Chippewa visionary living in a remote Colorado area and Many Heart, a dreamwalker, are the teachers in this profound journey through the spirit world for Summer Rain. In the Ancient oral tradition they guide the novice along the true path to understanding of who she is and her place in the continuing life of their people. This is a wonderful look at the way knowledge has been passed from generation to generation with strong emphasis on what is good and what might trick the spirituality-seeking novice into taking a wrong path. Positive life is strengthened by the knowledge of the shaman, natural medicine, awareness of Mother Earth and the putting aside the unnecessary quest for things that don't matter, in order to enrich your soul. Beautiful music written and played by Rich Burness on the native flute adds just the right touch to these moving, motivating tapes. Audio is a particularly fine format for these messages, as the busy parent can "read" while doing something else. It is also a great gift for someone whose eyes and hands might have aged and have difficulty reading or even in holding a book. Ages from 10 to 100 could enjoy the content, even if their beliefs are different. -- From Independent Publisher --This text refers to the Audio Cassette edition.

This book answered so many of my questions about myself and the purpose for my life. Felt at one with Author and her precious friend No-Eyes. One of those books you just can't put down. Am now reading Authors' 3rd book, and will definitely finish the series. Going to get one for my Daughter also so we can share what we have learned from it. :)

I just finished reading this wonderful book, and I am still awed by its' beauty! "Spirit Song" is truly a gem to behold! Mary Summer Rain's writing style is such that I actually felt as though I was right there with her & the "old woman" - hearing, seeing, smelling, feeling, & sensing all that they did. What a wonderful journey it was! "Spirit Song" is a story about the author's meeting, and subsequent learning from, an old Chippewa visionary. It is filled with the most beautiful imagery of the Colorado mountains - where both resided - as well as the amazing imagery of the past & potential future of life on earth. It's about an old woman with much to teach, and a younger woman who is eager to learn. It's about that special bond we all need - friendship. It's about hardship & loss, and bliss & freedom. This book is so many things all wrapped up in a wonderfully written package. This is the first book in the No-Eyes series - apparently there are several - and I am quite eager now to order & read the next one. If you are at all interested in spirituality and/or the American Indian culture, this would be a great book for you. I can't recommend it highly enough! I would also recommend the book "Black Elk", which is another great portrayal of the life of an old Indian visionary.

I have met the author. Such a warm, loving person. She writes from her heart! I anticipate reading her works!. She made "No Eyes" so real and convincing. The information coming from "No Eyes" may be applicable to the world today, Many of the herbs she had on-hand might be considered to be in everyone's medicine chest.

Life changing book.

Part One of a series...if interested in understanding what's going on with Mother Earth...its a MUST READ! Next book to get is Pheonix Rising...by Mary Summer Rain!

I have outgrown this one

i liked the print larger.made the book easy to read...the story was heart warming .energizing , for the heart.if you dont know where you belong ..you will know when you finish this book this book is filled with the wisdom a blind Native American has about the future of this country. It is very interesting. This is a replacement book. I couldn't find her copy and replaced it. She loves sthis book.
